PART III

A Scheme for the Prevention and Control of Soil Erosion in the 514 acres of land in the Manali River Valley Catchments, in Panamcheri Village, Trichur Taluk, Trichur District, Travancore-Cochin State.

Description of the area.

The area comprised by this scheme forms portions of the Upper catchments of the waterspread area of the Peechi Irrigational Dam in the Trichur District of the State. These areas were originally under deciduous evergreen forests and the dearth for more and more lands for Food Production purposes, necessitated the conversion of these forests into Hill paddy areas. The tree growths were extracted and the lands were given away to cultivators under the Grow More Food Campaign.

The soils of the area are mainly of lateritic origin and have now been practically depleted of their once high fertility. The topography is rolling to hilly and varies from about five to twenty-five percent. The annual rainfall of the area is about 90 inches and the intensity of precipitation is rather high. The major crops grown in the area are tapioca, a root and row crop and Hill paddy. The systems of farming are very unscientific and tapioca is being cultivated on ridges along the slopes.

Soil Erosion had been rampant in this area since the very first season, these lands were brought under haphazard cultivation. Sheet and Rill erosion have practically washed down several inches of the fertile productive top-soils. Gullies are also not uncommon. Silting up of the Reservoir of the Dam is in progress and year after year the bed level of the reservoir is rising consequent on the run-offs from the cultivated uphill slopes comprised within this proposed scheme area.

As such, it is imperative that, in the better interests of the future of this irrigational project of this State and in sustaining a permanently high agricultural productivity from these crop-lands, effective Soil Conservation measures should be implemented forthwith in this area.

Objects of the Scheme.

i. To completely control and prevent soil erosion in this vulnerable area of nearly 500 acres.

ii. To provide a partial solution to the ever-increasing problem of unemployment in the State. The actual execution of this scheme for 500 acres would provide employment opportunities for 40,000 unskilled labour days, and about 2,000 educated labour days.

Boundaries and approximate area of land included in the Scheme.

North. The Pattikad-Peechi Road, from 3rd mile and 3rd furlong to the fourth mile and second furlong.

East. A cart-tract that starts from the 4th mile and 2nd furlong of the Pattikad-Peechi road and along the western boundary of the Public Works Department porambokes and Block No. 1 of the Paravattani Range Reserved Forests, which separates this scheme area from the forest reserves.

South and West. Reserve forests—Nadathara beat in the Paravattani forest range. This forest range extends along the western boundary of the proposed scheme area and as it approaches the road, there is a small strip of teak plantation and revenue porambokes.

List of Owners, etc.

A complete list of persons who are actually in possession of the areas to-date, is appended. 163 families are now in possession of these nearly 514 acres. Three persons own extents of nearly 30 acres in consolidated blocks and there are eleven persons owning about six acres and above. All the other 149 persons own lands below six acres and the minimum area under each man's possession is nearly 10 cents.

Of the three persons owning 30 acres and above, two of them (serial Numbers 65 and 66 in the list) possess double crop paddy fields to an extent of nearly 30 acres. These paddy areas are only rain-fed and are irrigated by the waters of a perennial stream that runs down the hills and diverted by the said persons for the purpose. These lands once belonged to some private party from whom the present owners have purchased the same. The remaining nearly thirty acres in their possession are also privately owned.

Excluding the said nearly sixty-one acres of lands privately owned by the said two individuals, all the other lands belong to Government and are under occupation and possession by the persons noted in the list, either legally or illegally. All the nearly 450 acres belonging to Government were allotted for hill paddy cultivation by the erst-while Cochin Government and are since then, under occupation and cultivation by lessees and encroachers. Some of the original lessees are still in the areas whereas several persons have left the areas after giving away their rights on the land to others.

Works to be carried out under the scheme.

Since the slope percentage are within the controllable limit of twenty-five percent from Soil Conservation stand point, the entire area has to be contour terraced at every five feet vertical drops, which practice has proved to be completely effective in other areas of the State where the intensity of precipitations are more or less the same as those in this scheme area. For every 500 to 700 running feet of bunds or wherever a valley intervenes, whichever is nearer, the surplus run-offs have to be diverted through natural water-ways protected by checkdams or grassed outlets. At the top of each topographical unit, which may or may not form a complete watershed in itself, the surplus run-off from the higher elevations namely the reserve forests, are proposed to be diverted to the natural outlets by providing diversion trenches, dug for the purpose. This is extremely essential in regulating the flow of surplus run-offs from the uncontrolled areas in the Upper reaches.

In addition to the estimates furnished for the said works in the statement appended, it could be safely estimated that an extra of Rs. 15 per acre would be required for providing diversion trenches and for the protection of the natural water-ways with grass or checkdams. For this work an extra of Rs. 7,500 has to be additionally provided.

Agency for work.

The owners of lands may or may not undertake to do the works immediately. If they fail to execute the works within the specified dates, it is proposed to work all these lands at Government instance and Government costs and later realise part costs from the owners of lands who are the real beneficiaries of the Scheme. The necessary funds required for the purpose are available in the budget of this department for the current year. Working the lands at Government costs, if the owners fail to do the same within a specified date, would not only be advantageous from the Soil Conservation of point of view, but will also provide immediate employment opportunities to several unemployed labourers in the State.

Finance.

The total estimated working costs of the scheme is Rs. 80,000. The average costs per acre would therefore be about Rs. 160, of which amount, 25 per cent. could be subsidised on an equal basis by the Government of India and the State. The remaining 75 per cent, namely Rs. 120 per acre has to be realised from the beneficiaries of the scheme with 4½ per cent interest in fifteen equated annual instalments, as specified by the Central Soil Conservation Board of the Government of India. These realisations have to commence from the end of the first year after completion of the stipulated works in the area.
